Final Project Evaluation Rubric

1. Project Proposal and Management: 10%

2. Lessons Learned Personal Log: 10%

3. Project Completion Report/Presentation: 10%
    a. Updated project overview
    b. Actual project screenshots
    c. Complete class diagram(s) showing all classes and their relationships (fields and methods do not need to be shown

4. Project Comments: 10%
    a. Each class must have comments
    b. Each method in each class must have comments
    c. Each field in each class must have comments

5. Project Functionality: 60%
    a. Windows / Web Forms Design (15%)
    b. Business Logic (C# classes other than Windows / Web Forms classes) (15%)
    c. Database (15%)
    d. Quality of design and implementation (15%)

NOTE: Each member of the group will be graded individually based on their project contribution defined in the project proposal, the actual implementation and the project presentation.

*NOTES:

1. The professionalism of your submission, clarity of written communication is extremely important. The ability to communicate your knowledge is as important as the knowledge itself.
    a. Up to 40% of the mark for any written work can be deducted due to poor presentation / communication: title page (10%), document organization (10%), layout (10%) and grammar and spelling (10%).
    b. Up to 40% of the mark for a program can be deducted due to poor presentation / communication: quality of names according to our naming and coding conventions (10%), indentation (15%) and comments (15%).

2. All assignments shall be submitted by the deadline. Late submissions will be penalized with 10% per day for up to 3 calendar days after which the assignment cannot be submitted anymore. An email must be sent should you choose to submit a late assignment.

3. Submission is done in electronic format using your shared folder in DropBox.com and mark your submission as completed in SLATE. DO NOT email your submission. Please read the Dropbox Submission Guidelines in SLATE.